Geo. W. Alford, one of the Democratic County Committee for Lincoln county, having violated his faith with the Democratic party of the county by joining in calls upon Republicans and Independents to run against the regular Democratic nominees for certain county offices, has been requested in a public manner to tender his resignation as a member of the Committee. We hope he will comply with the request, and that the District and State papers will hand him around.

The canvass for district offices opened last Monday in Stanford, and the speeches like the weather, were pretty hot, and some of them were still fiercer like the weather, intensely dry. Col. Chishman, for Commonwealth's Attorney, opened the engagement in a speech of an hour or more, and was followed by his Republican opponent, Mr. Geo. Denny, Jr. in a speech of nearly the same length, who gave a slight exhibition of vanity and bravado, did quite well for one of his tender years, and bids fair to cut out a good deal of the party, and no doubt will.

Upon the documentary substratum of the Democratic party, preceded its ex-ultating truths. He didn't intend to have any shuffling in ranks, or lodging of this or that issue. His opponent was a Republican, and the nominee of a Republican couleuvre, and the game of "Independency" was of a texture "too thin." He admonished the Democratic party to cling like grim death to the Independent Judiciary department of our government, whatever befell them in the other departments.

The Louisiana and Arkansas troubles were brought upon the sorely afflicted people of those States by drunken incompetent carpet-bag Judges. He found a corrupt Judiciary in the Radical party, but pointed with pride to the bench of our own State, which has been occupied by Democrats since the adoption of the present organic law, and no corruption, no impeachments stand on record. Upon the subject of the civil rights bill he manifested no unbecoming littleness, but told how he made the Anglo-Saxon blood at his auditors boil as he unfolded to them the sweet-scentedness of that infernal parchment, section by section. He knew almost assuredly that it would become a law, and he held the Radical party, every man of them who would not avow his determination to abandon the party in the event of its passage, responsible for its consequences. Whether the bill passes the house of Representatives and becomes a law of the land or not, it is a policy of the Republican party, and if it is defeated, Democrats must do it.

The resolution of Col. Chishman was interlarded with several very questionable but highly amusing anecdotes, which served to elicit his arguments on account of their appropriateness, as well as to amuse the crowd amazingly. If he didn't beat Mr. Denny it will not become because he failed to discharge his whole duty upon the stump. The first point made by Mr. Denny in his reply to Mr. Chishman, was a reflection upon his own astuteness. His friend had spoken of an "Independent Judiciary." That was just the kind of a man he was.

Let the people elect an independent candidate, and thus preserve an independent Judiciary! (no applause, but some "very funny" sniggering). He attacked Col. Chishman's record with some degree of sharpness, and pledged himself, unconditionally not to contest the election, if defeated. He thought politics had nothing to do with his race, but did not shrink from confessing his Republican proclivities. He disliked to call up the animosities of the past; Col. Chishman had appealed to the passions of the people. The people were heartily tired of being scared into voting for politicians. In the next breath he took a text from a campaign sheet of 1872 and preached to the Democracy. He said that Greely had said hard things against the Southern people, notwithstanding which, Col. Chishman had endorsed all the demagogues that the Radical party had done to the South, upon the advice of Greely and his kind. He was opposed to Sumner's supplementary Civil Rights bill; wanted some legislation, however, that would compel railroads to furnish separate coaches for negroes, and forbidding white people to enter said coaches. He, like Peter, denied his master, and said he was not nominated by the Republican party; that the people made a choice of him, as between his opponents, Messrs. Tuttle and Adams. Our young friend has a great deal to learn, but in the dear scholastic institution of experience, with Christmas as tutor, he will advance in knowledge quite rapidly.

Major Owseley, Democratic candidate for Judge, made a brief speech, full of good sense, and would have spoken at length, but for the fact that his Republican opponent, Mr. John W. Tuttle, would not speak.

After the speaking by the candidates for judicial honors, last Monday, the crowd raised an enthusiastic call for Judge Sandley, Democratic nominee for County Judge, who made his appearance, and before commencing his speech, sent out for his Radical opponent and special friend, Mr. Lytle, as he wished to have a little discussion with him upon certain points connected with their canvass. Mr. L. was in the hands of his trainers, however, and failed to come to time until Sandley had well nigh finished an eloquent and sensible speech upon a popular topic. He entered, at last, rubbed up and smoothed down, and Sandley pounced upon him like a duck on a June bug: After a little sparring L. went to grass to avoid a home thrust. The second and third rounds were but a repetition of the first. Fourth round S. hit him over the head with Sumner's legacy, the civil rights bill, and, failing to ward the blow, he swallowed his radicalism and threw up a white flag with a miserably dirty border around it, which made his friends throw up the sponge, and a decline Sandley entitled in the stakes. Mr. L. expressed himself willing to be questioned regarding his fitness for the office of judgeship, but when Sandley proposed to examine him as to his qualifications, for one hour, pledging himself to yield him the track if he answered our single question correctly, L. begged to be excused. He would leave the people to judge of his qualifications, but would not submit to be catechized publicly by a competent examiner. We hope they will meet again, as it is important that some Democrats who are strongly attached to Mr. Lytle on account of his personal cleverness, should be made to see his utter incompetency for the important position, and also see through the gauzy subterfuges now being practiced by Mr. Lytle and his cohorts to defeat the Democratic nominees of the district first and the county next. Mr. Lytle is, personally, a clever man, and is one of our most useful and sterling citizens. Personally, the writer regards him with respect, but he is a bitter, uncompromising partisan, hating those who take up the cudgel for Democracy with a fervency exceeded only by his love for the extremist Radical measures ever adopted by the present Administration. He is not only incompetent by reason of his prejudices to sit in judgment upon a poor "trick" offender, but is wholly incompetent to perform even the everyday routine of office labor appertaining to the judgeship. There is not a magistrate or peace-officer in the county that could not fill the judgeship position better than the man the wily Radical party has selected to defeat the Democratic nominee for this office. Mr. Sandley is a man of superior natural talent; of unquestionable integrity and ability; no impartial judge; prompt in the discharge of his official duties without fear or favor, and is an able and willing exponent of the everlasting truths of the Democratic creed. His decisions, during a term of four years as County Judge, attest his knowledge of law and justice, while his well-ordered and systematically kept records stand as a monument to his energy and industry. To defeat such a man with even the cleverest Democrat in the county would be a shame, but to elect an incompetent Radical nigger, would be to commit the unpardonable sin spoken of in Holy writ, (not a line of which does this model citizen believe). But there is no politics in the office! Neither is there politics in a postoffice, or a mail agency, or the humble position of carrying the mails from a local depot to a local postoffice. Yet there is not a Democrat engaged in either line of business in this section; and only a short time ago a clever gentleman was removed from a postoffice in the county for "spitting his ticket."

Do they think Democrats are a blind set of fools?

Mr. J. W. Tuttle, of Wayne county, Independent Republican candidate for District Judge, whose announcement appears in another column of this paper, requests us to say that he is certainly a candidate, all rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. We learn that a few of the leaders of his party in this county attempted last Monday to induce him to withdraw from the race, or submit to the action of the party, but Mr. Tuttle declined both propositions, and will make the race independent of party action. Col. Morris yielded the track to him some weeks ago, so we presume the entire are all in and the swiftest tug will win the stakes.

Mr. T. Hughes, who was shot last week by his Uncle Granville Smith, is not yet dead, but is in a very precarious condition.

Misses. Owsley and Carter will speak at Shelby City this (Friday) evening, and at Harrodsburg, to-morrow.

The Indiana Grangers are holding a convention in Indianapolis. About 100 delegates are in attendance.

Democrats, Take Notice!

At a called meeting of the Democratic County Committee for Lincoln county, held at Stanford on June 8th, 1874, the purpose and objects of the meeting having been explained by the chairman of the committee to take into consideration the case of G. W. Alford, a member of said Democratic County Committee, and chairman pro tem of the meeting that called the Democratic primary election, which was held on the 4th of April, 1874, to select candidates for the county offices. Now

WHEREAS, The Committee has been reliably and credibly informed that said Alford refuses to support the nominees of the Democratic party, selected by said primary election, and

WHEREAS, Said Alford's name appears upon a petition petitioning parties to run in opposition to the regular nominees selected at the primary election at the call of which he provided as chairman pro tem of said Democratic Committee, and

WHEREAS, Said reports of his opposition to the ticket are largely and industriously circulated to the prejudice of the Democratic candidates selected at said election, be it, therefore,

Resolved, That in order to promote the general harmony and good feeling in the party, we respectfully request the said G. W. Alford to tender his resignation to the State Central Committee at Frankfort, Kentucky.

BASE BALL.

The Standard Nine Again Victorious.

There is no sport so fascinating to the American youth as the game of base ball, and none that combines more perfectly the requisites for healthful exercise, pleasure and innocent amusement. We do not claim to be an advocate of base ball, yet we must say that we regard it as the least harmful of all the popular games of the day. It has for ages been a characteristic of the English and American youth to love to engage in the manly and athletic sports of the field, and to delight in contests where strength, agility and hardiness are essential to success. The principal opposition to the game is made by those who are constitutionally too lazy to engage in any active recreation, or are too much absorbed in the practical affairs of life to spend an hour in any exhilarating exercise. We claim to belong to the former class.

A challenge from the Resolute of Danville, to the Montgomery club, of Stanford, resulted in a match game on the grounds of Dr. Montgomery, Saturday, the 30th inst. The Resolute were defeated by a score of 55 to 25. The second contest took place on the College campus, at Danville, on Saturday last, between the Montgomery nine and a picked nine from the Resolute and College clubs, when the Stanford nine were again the victors. Below we give a summary of the game:

THE DISTRICT CANVASS.

Appointments of Messrs. Owsley and Chishman.

Hon. M. H. Owsley and J. S. Chishman, candidates for the judgeship and Commonwealth's Attorneyship in the 8th Congressional District, have made the following appointments, and invite their opponents to meet them. Speaking to commence at 2 o'clock p. m., each day.

Little South Fork Precinct, Casey county, June 19th; Alstroth's store, June 20th; Liberty, June 23.

A full list of appointments will be published next week.

As the morning passenger train from New Orleans to Louisville was nearing Belmont Station, about twenty-five miles from Louisville, it ran into a freight train which was going in upon a switch to permit the passenger train to pass. A fireman named Wallace was almost instantly killed in attempting to jump from the engine. Both trains were considerably injured. The passenger train was No. 5, and the freight train No. 9. Two other accidents occurred on the same day on the Short Line railroad somewhat similar to this.

The people of Shelby county, in Democratic mass meeting assembled, urged Mr. Beck to consent to a re-nomination for Congress. Then, Mr. Beck is to have no peace until after the election.

The Interior Journal comes out for Mr. Beck for Governor. We are opposed to this move. Beck is too able, and good a worker to put where there is nothing to do.—Paris Free Kentucky.

THE BOARD OF CURATORS OF KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY

At a called meeting of the University met in Lexington on the 9th, J. H. Bowman offered his resignation as Treasurer. The meeting was addressed by R. M. Bishop. Eight members of the Board were absent. The Bowman party will attempt to impeach the anti-Bowman portion of the Board.

Water! Water! Water!!!
A meeting of the citizens of Stanford and vicinity will be held to-morrow, Saturday, at eight o'clock, to receive the report of Mr. John Hight, surveyor, as to the practicability of leading an inexhaustible supply of pure water from Buffalo Spring to town. As all feel a common interest in this matter, it is hoped that a large number will attend the meeting. An expenditure of a few thousand dollars upon an enterprise of this kind will confer a lasting blessing upon the town. Without pure water we cannot be healthy people, and we have wasted quite enough money in making wells which become filthy and useless at a season of the year when an abundant supply of good water is most needed. The people of the county who wish Stanford on public days are interested in the movement to supply the town with good water, and should be many of them will contribute to the construction of the pipes. The fall is thought to be sufficient to throw the water from Main street to the railroad, and to the rest of any building on Main street. Let the meeting to-morrow be well attended, and characterized by good judgment and liberality.

Council Proceedings.
Going to the press of our best number upon our columns during the past few weeks, we have omitted the publication of the proceedings of the Board of Trustees. We resume the synopsis of the report at the request of a number of citizens of the town.

May 7th—The Treasurer's report received and reviewed. Aggregate amount received by Treasurer from March 29th, 1873, to April 14th, 1874, $2,960.90. Amount paid out from same date to same date, $2,811.90.

June 1st—The Board of Trustees met at 8 P. M. and considered the report of the committee appointed to look into the matter of the proposed extension of the Main and Depot streets. The committee reported that the proposed extension of the Main and Depot streets, from the crossing of Main and Depot streets, to the crossing of Main and Depot streets, was a matter of great importance, and that the committee had been unable to reach a conclusion. The Board of Trustees decided to refer the matter to the next meeting.

May 11th—License to retail liquors granted to M. H. Bane. Marshal instructed to remove all distilleries found upon the streets, on failure to find owner of the same. May 15th—C. H. Miller tendered his resignation as a member of the Board in the following elegant style characteristic of the gentleman. We here take occasion to remark that no legislative body ever had a more competent and thoroughly efficient chairman. He performed his duties as Treasurer and President with an eye single to the best interests of the town, without regard to his personal interests, and being a polished and refined gentleman, a wrangling and contentious atmosphere is unattainable in his predictions. The following is a copy of his resignation:

To the Board of Trustees of Stanford:
I wish to avail myself of this occasion to say to this honorable Board, that my relations, both social and official, with every member of your body have been pleasant. But convinced, as I am, that younger men than myself are the more efficient material out of which to select members to control public affairs, I hereby tender my resignation as a member of this Board. Hoping and believing that your administration will be for the promotion of the best interests of the town.

I am respectfully yours,
T. W. MILLER.

June 24th—J. H. McKimley, President of the Board to fill the unexpired term of C. T. W. Miller, resigned. Board of Trustees presented and accepted. Committee on printing by-laws of town reported a proposition received from the Louisville Advertiser to publish 100 copies of Charter and By-laws at $12.50 per copy, which proposition was accepted. The committee also reported the following proposition from the proprietors of the Louisville Advertiser, which was also accepted and formally rejected. Messrs. Pennington and Moore voting negatively.

STANDFORD, KY, May 15th, 1874.
To the Board of Trustees of the town of Stanford:
In response to the request of your committee that we make a "scaled bill" for the publication of 100 copies of By-laws for our town, we beg leave to say that we do not feel inclined to enter the cut-throat arena for "Public Printing." If you will send your committee to this office, we assure you that our prices shall not be exorbitant. We will execute the work well and immediately, and charge for it the lowest price which we can afford not taking into consideration in making the bill, the immense amount of gratuitous work we have done for the town of Stanford during the past two years, or our constant labors during that period in behalf of our public institutions.

Very respectfully,
WILLIAM CAMPBELL.

Account of T. J. Atkins rejected on account of informality. Committee appointed to ascertain the sense of the citizens upon the subject of purchasing a fire engine, and to solicit subscriptions for that purpose. Committee appointed to have the crossings on Main street repaired and also the public pumps.

HOME JOTTINGS.

Water! water! water!!!
Several cases of cholera morbus have occurred around town this week.

About sixty clay-shale are shipped from our district this week for the coal mines of Illinois.

Let all sensible people make preparation for a visitation of cholera this season. Cleanliness is the word.

Water your newly planted water-melons this week, or they will die as surely as the leaves die in Autumn.

Hon. Saml. H. Mayner, Senator elect to Congress from Texas, was in town this week, a guest of his kinsman, Hon. Thos. R. Montgomery.

The catfish, mud-minnows and water-dogs are running around the country with tin cups in their mouths begging a drink of water. Graciously, but it's not dry.

We have had no rain in this section since the 4th Monday in April, and if our weather prognosticator is correct, we are to have none until the 25th of the present month.

Our supply of water is almost exhausted. By the 25th—the day for a copious rain—four-fifths of our citizens will be compelled to haul water from Buffalo Spring, about one mile.

Some wretch of a thief, "cudle, took and carried away" from a well-to-do farmer, living near Walnut Flat in this county, a few days since, nearly one hundred young turkeys.

When the courthouses fall rains to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, let all citizens of Stanford and vicinity attend the meeting to consult upon the important matter of increasing our supply of water.

Mr. John Hight and Miss Ann Mary Smith, daughter of Mr. M. V. Smith, accompanied by Mr. Eph Hight and Miss Mollie Alcorn, closed last Monday night for Cincinnati, where we suppose they were married.

The railroads in the Kinks have formed a "corner" in water, and the supply of some families is cut off. They gather in large numbers around the springs and suffer no one to approach the water—so Alex. Martin says.

Ephraim has a sensational story in two chapters to report next week, in which is described a fearful midnight drive, and which figures prominently two interesting characters, a fast horse, a scared toll-taker and a live specimen of filippine humanity.

Among the pleasant visitors to our museum last Monday, were Dr. Ed. Alcorn, historical reporter of the Advertiser, and our special friend and correspondent, Dr. Grinnard, of Shelby City. We are indebted to both for interesting items of news.

If those who think an editor has an easy, cool time of it, sitting back in the shade writing articles for his paper, would try the business these hot days, with the sweat pouring down his face and running from his fingers' ends, and his ears ringing with the noise and into his ears, they would change their opinion.

By a singular oversight, we failed to report a report of the examination of Prof. J. B. Myers' Geometry class by the Professors of Lewis College, in Louisville, last Saturday. We learn that the young men, comprising the class, without exception, won honors for their teacher and themselves. A report next week.

Without solicitation or reward, we desire to commend to every brother of the press the extensive paper establishment of Charles Stone, successor to Stone & Stewart, Cincinnati. We have found this house straightforward, prompt and accommodating, while their prices are as low as those of any house with which we have ever done business.

We saw the other day, reclining upon the sidewalk in front of one of our green-blinded liquid-chassis dispensaries, a beautiful specimen of the handiwork of some eastern keeper. We thought how proud the artist should feel who could put up such a job. We wondered why he didn't, in the establishment of his policy, stand over his handiwork, and showing the intoxicated bliss of his blotted face, proclaim to the passer-by, that he was the skillful master that wrought the beautiful work.

One of our hand-having-looking gallants who prides himself upon his beautifully formed hands and artistically tapering fingers, was endeavoring, the other evening, to assure his sweetheart of the harmlessness of the agile little load by bestowing upon his rustic-looking skin a series of tender and loving caresses. The lady didn't seem to have a bad conscience as to the result, but her Alcorn carries his right hand in a sling and says that the numerous enlargements of the vascular papillae and infarctions of the surrounding epidermis is what he wanted.

If we could be made to believe that the action of a majority of the Board of Trustees of Stanford in rejecting our offer for the insignificant job of publishing a few copies of by-laws for the town is a fair representation of the future town controls and governs the actions, feelings and sentiments of our people, we would pack our collar-box and depart as a missionary to the Fiji Islands where such quinquennial of double-distilled diminutive is not found in high or low places. The provision of a heretofore was a glorious conception in the mind of Edith.

For undiluted horizontal literature and unadorned horizontal monotonousness, we would in the respect of the preceding of the first show at Louisville last week, as published in the Louisville Advertiser of the 4th inst. The reporter, misled by the names of cherries, strawberries, etc., in such a way as to completely mislead an amateur, and make blundering, bare, downy, ill-wild, etc., almost "crazy." For instance, he speaks of "Seth Downing" cherries and "Deeds' Em-press" strawberries. Also, he informs us that there are cherries bearing such names as Wilson's Albany, Chase Downing, Arcadian, etc. And such strawberries as Deeds' Em-press, Deeds' Em-press, Deeds' Em-press, etc. Next time, friend Ledger, and somebody around in the show who knows a cherry from a plum, and a strawberry from a pear.

Stanford Female College.
In our advertising columns will be found the order of exercises for the Stanford Female College Commencement. We would remind the patrons of the school that it is their duty to encourage the progress and teachers of the institution with their presence during the oral examinations. The concert is a feature of the closing exercises which properly attract general interest. We can assure the public, having examined the programme, and noticed the rapid advancement of the students under the instruction of their accomplished teachers, that although the regular lessons have not been suspended a single day, the concert will be a most interesting affair. In the evening school, from September to June, every minute is trained for one or two pieces to be played at the concert, and when such is the case, conceals a part of school work, are a positive injury. But we are glad to be able to say that it is the policy of Miss Jesse to interest her pupils so that they do not feel that a concert is the goal for which they must strive.

Having determined to adopt a system exclusively, we notify a few indebted to us to call and settle their accounts at once and save trouble. PIERCE & DUDEK.

C. & R. R. ITEMS.

The man, Mercer, who killed Foster at Point Isabel, last week, has surrendered to the authorities.

The method of communication now between Chattanooga and Emory river, where the contractors are at work, is by boat on the Tennessee. For almost thirty days we had no news, (a striking contrast to our last complaints) yet the last rains here inspired us with a new hope, and we feel not only able to supply ourselves, but others who necessities may require our attention.

Yesterday the storm king swept with considerable violence through the Elk Spring Valley, destroying fences, uprooting trees, &c. It has been some years since we have had a storm equal to this one.

Irvin Keeton killed his brother-in-law, Abe Simpson, a few days ago, with a stone. We are not advised as to the cause of the difficulty. Upon an examining trial of Keeton before Magistrates Bell and Hunt he was required to appear at the Fall term of our Circuit Court.

At the trial of a difficulty with two of the factors Hinton's sons, stabbed them both, the wounds, however, are not dangerous.

Old Uncle John Naggs, who is now ninety-four years old, having retired to the quiet hills of Otter Creek, found the spring of his old horse, spoken of by Hawthorne, and dreamed of happiness again. He came to town a few days ago for license to marry a Mrs. Hix, but his relations interfering broke off the match, and in fact proceeding against each other to have a guardian appointed for him, but failed.

It was thought that the main indictment in the late in this official man, was to share a party-swallow to the old man for eminent services on the plains of Polksters, sometimes in the 19th century.

Our standard-bearer for District Attorney will leave for Stanford, today, Mr. Christian Hix, Esq., who will be accompanied by his wife, leaving for some time, and will be in the city to-morrow. Judge Hix, made his appearance here last night.

We are informed that Messrs. Morrow and Bradley were in our county a short time since, at a meeting of colored "gentlemen," to explain the actions of the civil rights bill. We hope we are mistaken in this.

T. J. Davis, who has been South trading, arrived home last evening. We are glad to see him looking so well after his long absence. Our old friend, Mr. J. T. Wilkie, paid us a visit of several days, but has returned to Stanford.

Mr. H. L. Phillips and Miss Alice Chalmers were married a few days ago. We congratulate the young couple in the new role they have to play in life, wishing them God-speed.

W. A. Bunker is on a visit to see his brother-in-law, Dr. Cecil, of Boyle County. Benjamin Bunker, who was adjudged a lunatic and confined here from Anderson, Ky., on account of his insanity, will live in prison. We cannot see this to be an act of pure justice. He should be delivered to his friends in Casey county.

John W. Tittle has announced himself a candidate for Circuit Judge, as an independent candidate against M. H. Owsley. He says he is "Mick, man, serious."

Woodward Brothers, of Pulaski county, organized a Sabbath school on last Sunday at this place.

P. S. When we spoke in our last of our quoniam edition—we did not mean "quoniam friend."

Crab Orchard Springs College.
We inadvertently omitted to call attention to our last issue by the neglect of calling attention to the establishment by Mrs. Tarrant of the Crab Orchard Springs College. The building was completed on Wednesday evening last, fully and ready for occupancy.

Stanford—We had a large crowd in town and considering the depressing influence of the drought, considerable business was transacted in all departments. There were many heads of cattle offered, mostly very inferior quality, and though the auctioneers assumed the position in the most positive terms that "it would certainly rain" prices were low. Capt. Higgins reported the sale of scrub cattle at $12.50; 9 steer calves, $9.35; 8 cows, $10.50; 12 month-old calves, $2.05; 20 month-old calves, $3.00; milk cows, $2.25 to $2.40. A few horses offered and sold well. Mr. Hix's yearling at $24; 1 pair of calves at $14; some 2-year-olds, $15; a cow, $10; 11 calves, $14; 11 calves, $14; 11 calves, $14.

FROM WAYNE COUNTY.

MONTEZUMA, KY, June 5, 1874.
Correspondence Interior Journal.

We were fearful that we should have to go "down into Egypt" to buy corn next year, on account of the prospective approach of a famine. For almost thirty days we had no news, (a striking contrast to our last complaints) yet the last rains here inspired us with a new hope, and we feel not only able to supply ourselves, but others who necessities may require our attention.

Local Sales and General Movements.

Mr. Geo. Cook offers his little farm for sale in our local department.

Big cholera is raging in the Southern part of our county, around Waynesburg, and large numbers of hogs have died.

Notwithstanding the long drought, the wheat crop will be an excellent one. While it is true that the stalks are low, it is also true that the heads are large, long, full and the grain as fine as could be. Most of the crop will be cut next week. No rust, blight, or other disease is in any field, and the crop will be a fine one. These facts we have heard from an intelligent farmer who has a specially selected number of fields with a view to making a report. It is too early to predict anything as to corn. The ground is not as dry as people think, and if the farmers will keep their ground stirred, the corn can stand drought a week or two longer. Rye is doing average.
